

Build Something Different

K-12 Coding Instructor

POSITION DETAILS

BSD is searching for a personable, energetic individual to join our international team of educators. The full-time Coding Instructor will introduce K-12 students to the world of programming while gaining experience from our passionate, friendly, and exceptionally well qualified team.

We are looking for a motivated self-learner who shares our mission of making technology education available to everyone.

JOB RESPONSIBILITIES

- Lead introductory courses using HTML, CSS, and JavaScript
- Run off-site technology education workshops at local schools
- Manage associate and part time instructors

OUR PERFECT CANDIDATE IS

- Personable
- Punctual
- Organized
- Presentable
- Well Spoken
- Detail Oriented

REQUIREMENTS

- Work experience in K-12 education
- HTML, CSS, and/or JavaScript is a plus
- Video Game Design experience is a plus

Benefits

- BSD offers a competitive salary, medical benefits package as well as holidays and paid time off.

Required experience:

- Teaching/Tutoring: 1 year

If you think you're the right person for this role, please send the following to gi@bsdacademy.com:

- Your resume
- A brief statement of why you want to work here
- A brief statement of why you're an ideal fit for this role

About BSD

BSD stands for Build Something Different. We are an international team of entrepreneurs, technologists and educators dedicated to empowering the kids of today with the tools for tomorrow. We partner with schools to develop technology curriculum to enhance existing lesson plans in all core content areas as well as, support teachers with professional development on the use and integration of technology into their classrooms. Each partnership is curated to be applicable to the communities they serve and delivered through our online learning platform, Launchbox, which has been designed specifically to ensure it can effectively teach all learners, regardless of age or previous experience.